remsieun's intro to:

ZINES!

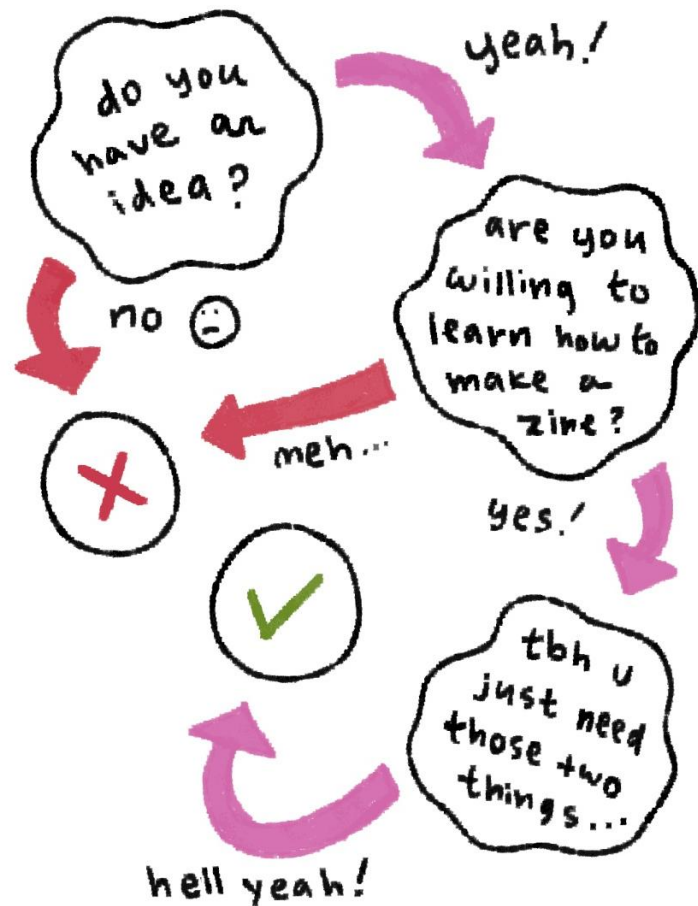

what is a zine?

a zine is sort of an anti-magazine. it's usually on odd or niche subject matters that have the main goal of sharing, not selling.

Should You Make a Zine?

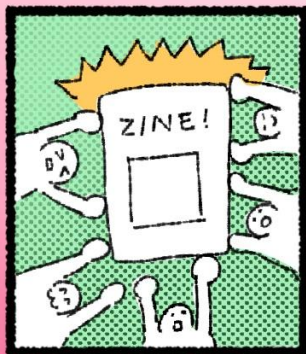

rem's zine story

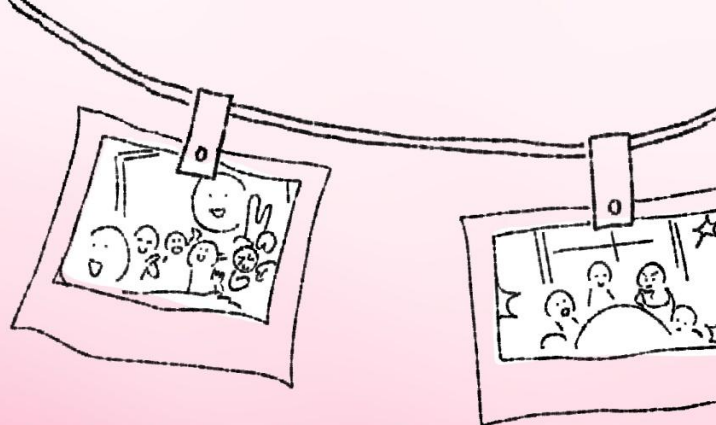

I first got really into zines at a program at the [redacted] Museum.

Me and four other kids made an educational zine for the kids at their art camp to use!

We met up every other week, talking about ways we could make the zine better, more interesting.

Experiencing this core idea of zines up-front and personal, the connection and creativity that came with our collaboration, is what drove me into really liking zines.
